Pet Food Drive. With National Homeless Animal Day around the corner (Aug 20), staff from the City of Glendale Building Safety Department came up with a great treat to help homeless pets in the West Valley.

The group is hosting a pet food drive from August 1 to August 31 to benefit two West Valley animal shelters that are in need of canned and dry food. Due to the recession, many animal shelters have reached full capacity and are seeing a record-breaking number of animals. Inspectors have been noticing a number of stray animals upon inspections and in some cases are taking these animals back to work to provide some extra assistance. Some staff members have become foster parents to these abandoned animals and have worked closely with the shelters to help rescue and provide the necessary care for the cats and dogs discovered on the streets.

The shelters are seeking the following items: pet food, cat litter, cat and dog toys, cat nip, Neosporin and cat litter pans. People may donate pet-related items at the following locations:

- Glendale Visitor Center, 5800 W. Glenn Drive, Suite 140.
- Glendale Main Library, 5959 W. Brown St.
- Glendale Foothills Branch Library, 19055 N. 57th Ave.
- Glendale Velma Teague Branch Library, 7010 N. 58th Ave.
- Building Safety Department, 5850 W. Glendale Ave, 2nd Floor

City of Glendale Debuts on YouTube. The award-winning shows from Glendale 11 have gone viral. Viewers can now find and share their favorite Glendale 11 shows and videos on the cable channel's new official YouTube channel – www.youtube.com/myglendale11.

The channel, which joins the city's growing network of social media outlets, serves as an online hub for Glendale 11's programming to the YouTube audience. An ever-updating library of videos will be available on a regular basis, and fan favorites will continue to show up in the rotation. The channel allows worldwide users of this widely popular Internet tool to connect with the city of Glendale as well as see firsthand all it has to offer.

The launch of this channel also gives the city the opportunity to capitalize on viral video marketing, allowing users to share great Glendale 11 videos they see and pass them along, thus exposing more viewers.

Glendale has also joined Facebook and Twitter as ways to market and communicate important information. Glendale is one of a few Valley cities using these free, online social networking tools to reach out to residents and one of the first in the West Valley to have a presence on Facebook, Twitter and YouTube.
